

ESA Member Meet-Up Space and Member Rally for the Washington, DC March for Science

ESA will host a meet-up space for the Washington, DC, March for Science at the American Society of Association Executives (ASAE) conference center at 1575 I Street NW from 7:30 am-5 pm on April 22. You can visit any time during the day, get water and coffee, and use the restroom. Sign-making materials will be available if you have not made a sign in advance.

To reach ASAE by Metrorail, take the Orange, Blue, or Silver line to McPherson Square and take the White House exit. ASAE's conference center is directly across I Street from the Metro station. For more detailed public transportation directions, driving directions, and parking information visit <https://www.asaecenter.org/about-us/conference-facilities>. A map of the conference center location is available below.

Member Rally Time

ESA members who wish to walk to the March for Science together should meet at the conference space by 9 am. At 9:15 am the ESA member group will walk to the Washington Monument grounds together. The walk from the conference space to the Washington Monument is a little under a mile.

Photography at Member Rally

An ESA photographer will be taking photos at the member rally. If you do not wish to have your photo included, please notify Lisa Junker of the ESA staff when you arrive at the member rally.
